Arguments for a Better World: Essays in Honor of Amartya Sen - Kaushik Basu 2009

Amartya Sen has made deep and lasting contributions to the academic disciplines of economics, philosophy, and the social sciences more broadly. He has engaged in policy dialogue and public debate, advancing the cause of a human development focused policy agenda, and a tolerant and democratic polity. This argumentative Indian has made the case for the poorest of the poor, and for plurality in cultural perspective. It is not surprising that he has won the highest awards, ranging from the Nobel Prize in Economics to the Bharat Ratna, India's highest civilian honor. This public recognition has gone hand in hand with the affection and admiration that Amartya's friends and students hold for him. This volume of essays, written in honor of his 75th birthday by his students and peers, covers the range of contributions that Sen has made to knowledge. They are written by some of the world's leading economists, philosophers and social scientists, and address topics such as ethics, welfare economics, poverty, gender, human development, society and politics. The second volume covers the topics of Human Development and Capabilities; Gender and Household; Growth, Poverty and Policy; and Society, Politics and History. It is a fitting tribute to Sen's own contributions to the discourse on Society, Institutions and Development. Contributors include: Bina Agarwal, Isher Ahluwalia, Montek S Ahluwalia, Ingela Alger, Muhammad Asali, Amiya Kumar Bagchi, Pranab Bardhan, Lourdes Benería, Sugata Bose, Lincoln C. The World Bank Legal Review, Volume 2: Law, Equity and Development - The World Bank 2006-12-31

"The World Bank Legal Review" is a publication for policy makers and their advisers, attorneys, and other professionals engaged in the field of international development. It offers a combination of legal scholarship, lessons from experience, legal developments, and recent research on the many ways in which the application of the law and the improvement of justice systems promote poverty reduction, economic development, and the rule of law. In keeping with the theme of the "World Development Report 2006: Equity and Development," and following the success of the World Bank Group's Legal Forum on "Law, Equity, and Development" in December 2005, volume 2 of "The World Bank Legal Review" focuses on issues of equity and development. The volume draws together some of the key ideas of the Legal Forum, including articles by many of its distinguished participants, and explores the role of equity in the development process, highlighting how legal and regulatory frameworks and equitable justice systems can do much to level the playing field in the political, economic, and sociocultural domains, as well as how they can reinforce existing inequalities. Consistent with the interdisciplinary nature of this endeavour, "Law, Equity and Development" contains work by academics and practitioners in law, criminal justice, economics, human rights, social development, cultural studies, and anthropology.

The Laws of Human Nature - Robert Greene
2019-10-01

From the #1 New York Times bestselling author of The 48 Laws of Power comes the definitive new book on decoding the behavior of the people around you. Robert Greene is a master guide for millions of readers, distilling ancient wisdom and philosophy into essential texts for seekers of power, understanding and mastery. Now he turns to the most important subject of all - understanding people's drives and motivations, even when they are unconscious of them themselves. We are social animals. Our very lives depend on our relationships with people. Knowing why people do what they do is the most important tool we can possess, without which our other talents can only take us so far.

Drawing from the ideas and examples of Pericles, Queen Elizabeth I, Martin Luther King Jr, and many others, Greene teaches us how to detach ourselves from our own emotions and master self-control, how to develop the empathy that leads to insight, how to look behind people's masks, and how to resist conformity to develop your singular sense of purpose. Whether at work, in relationships, or in shaping the world around you, The Laws of Human Nature offers brilliant tactics for success, self-improvement, and self-defense.

Discipline Disparities Among Students With Disabilities - Pamela A. Fenning 2022

The decades-long problem of disproportionate school discipline and school-based arrests of students with disabilities, particularly those who also identify as Black or Native American, is explored in this authoritative book. A team of interdisciplinary scholars, attorneys, and education practitioners focus on how disparities based on disability intersect with race and ethnicity, why such disparities occur, and the impacts these disparities have over time. A DisCrit and research-based perspective frames key issues at the beginning of the book, and the chapters that follow suggest promising practices and approaches to reduce the inequitable use of school discipline and increase the use of evidence-supported alternatives to prevent and respond to behaviors of students with disabilities. The final chapter recommends future research, policy, legal, and practice goals, suggesting an agenda for moving the field forward in years to come. The Gold Standard at the Turn of the Twentieth Century - Steven Bryan 2010-08-31

By the end of the nineteenth century, the world was ready to adopt the gold standard out of concerns of national power, prestige, and anti-English competition. Yet although the gold standard allowed countries to enact a virtual single world currency, the years before World War I were not a time of unfettered liberal economics and one-world, one-market harmony. Outside of Europe, the gold standard became a tool for nationalists and protectionists primarily interested in growing domestic industry and imperial expansion. This overlooked trend, provocatively reassessed in Steven Bryan's well-documented history, contradicts our conception of the gold standard as a British-based system infused with English ideas, interests, and institutions. In countries like Japan and Argentina, where nationalist concerns focused on infant-industry protection and the growth of military power, the gold standard enabled the expansion of trade and the goals of the age: industry and empire. Bryan argues that these countries looked less to Britain and more to North America and the rest of Europe for ideological models. Not only does this history challenge our idealistic notions of the prewar period, but it also reorients our understanding of the history that followed. Policymakers of the 1920s latched onto the idea that global prosperity before World War I was the result of a system dominated by English liberalism. Their attempt to reproduce this triumph helped bring about the global downturn, the Great Depression, and the collapse of the interwar world.

Harmonic Maps - James Eells 1992-08-21

These original research papers, written during a period of over a quarter of a century, have two main objectives. The first is to lay the foundations of the theory of harmonic maps between Riemannian Manifolds, and the second to establish various existence and regularity theorems as well as the explicit constructions of such maps. Contents: Harmonic Mappings of Riemannian Manifolds (1964) Énergie et Déformations en Géométrie Différentielle (1964) Variational Theory in Fibre Bundles (1965) Restrictions on Harmonic Maps of Surfaces (1976) The Surfaces of Delaunay (1987) Minimal Graphs (1979) On the Construction of Harmonic and Holomorphic Maps between Surfaces (1980) Deformations of Metrics and Associated Harmonic Maps (1981) A Conservation Law for Harmonic Maps (1981) Maps of Minimum Energy (1981) The Existence and Construction of Certain Harmonic Maps (1982) Harmonic Maps from Surfaces to Complex Projective Spaces (1983) Examples of Harmonic Maps from Disks to Hemispheres (1984) Variational Theory in Fibre Bundles: Examples (1983) Constructions Twistorielles des Applications Harmoniques (1983) Removable Singularities of Harmonic Maps (1984) On Equivariant Harmonic Maps (1984) Regularity of Certain Harmonic Maps (1984) Gauss Maps of Surfaces (1984) Minimal Branched Immersions into Three-Manifolds (1985) Twistorial Construction of Harmonic Maps of Surfaces into Four-Manifolds (1985) Certain Variational Principles in Riemannian Geometry (1985) Harmonic Maps and Minimal Surface Coboundaries (1987) Unstable Minimal Surface Coboundaries (1986) Harmonic Maps between Spheres and Ellipsoids (1990) On Representing Homotopy Classes by Harmonic Maps (1991) Readership: Researchers and students in differential geometry and topology and theoretical physicists. keywords: Harmonic Mapping; Energy; Holomorphic Map; First (Second) Variation of Energy; Minimal Immersion; Minimal Graph; Regularity of Maps; Removable Singularities "It is striking that the papers cut a wide swathe through mathematics, and this is a testimony to the fact that the author has influenced so many younger mathematicians, several of whom are

The book examines the theory and practice of law and development. 'Doing' Coercion in Male Custodial Settings - Luigi Gariglio 2017-07-20

This book offers a sustained study of one feature of the prison officer's job: the threat and use of force, which the author calls 'doing' coercion. Adopting an interactionist, micro-sociological perspective, the author presents new research based on almost two years of participant observation within an Italian custodial complex hosting both a prison and a forensic psychiatric hospital. Based on observation of emergency squad interventions during so-called 'critical events', together with visual methods and interviews with staff, 'Doing' Coercion in Male Custodial Settings constitutes an ethnographic exploration of both the organisation and the implicit and explicit practices of threatening and/or 'doing' coercion. With a focus on the lawful yet problematic and discretionary threatening and 'doing' of coercion performed daily on the landing, the author contributes to the growing scholarly literature on power in prison settings, and the developing field of the micro-sociology of violence and of radical interactionism. As such, it will appeal to scholars of sociology, anthropology and criminology with interests in prisons, power and violence in institutions, and visual methods.
